Two miss necessary two thirds majority at polls in Campbell

Voters in the City of Campbell went to the polls on Tuesday and gave their approval by casting a two-thirds majority vote for four of the six bond measures on the ballot totalling $2,620,000.

Only the parks measure for $850,000 and the service center for $130,000 failed to get the voters approval. The measures presented to the voters totalled $3,600,000.

The voting in the 15 consolidated precincts set up for the election was light with approximately 21 per cent of the registered voters going to the polls. There are 7205 registered voters in Campbell but only 2087 cast ballots on Tuesday.

Although the election campaign for the bond issue stressed "all six", city officials and hard-working citizen volunteer workers expressed pleasure that four of the six measures made the grade.

"It is an achievement unparalleled in this city's history," Mayor Ed Rogers said.

Other civic leaders emphasized that Campbell's achievements was one that many other cities will envy.

Mayor Rogers also paid special tribute to the hard-working citizens committee, headed by Don Hebard.

"We cannot say enough good things about this group of dedicated and determined citizens who carried the ball from the beginning to the end. The city administration and every single citizen owes them a debt of gratitude.

All four of the measures that carried went considerably over the necessary two-thirds. Both the parks and service center received a majority vote. Parks missed the two-thirds by 91 votes and the service center by 15.

This is how the voting went on Tuesday

Turn 'em Back

Sunday, Oct. 29 automatically brings a return to Pacific Standard Time which means turning the clock BACK one hour at 2 a.m., ending Daylight Saving Time.

Just remember "spring forward, fall back", if you need help in turning the clock in the right direction.

OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

IF YOU HEAR Mayor Ed Roger's fellow councilmen refer to him as "your worship" during a council meeting, don't get concerned.

They will be merely following an old English custom of which they have first-hand knowledge as a result of recent correspondence between Mayor Rogers and the mayor of Portsmouth, England.

The correspondence between the two mayors came about through the efforts of Albert R. Gould, who now resides at 167 Rosemary Lane, and who recently toured England.

GOULD, A RETIRED arboriculturist, met the mayor of Portsmouth who gave him a letter to convey to the mayor of Campbell.

The letter was directed to "your worship" in the "Mayor's Parlour", Campbell, Calif. U.S.A.

That was only natural because the letterhead used by his worship in Portsmouth indicated that the letter was sent from the "Lord Mayor's Parlour, The Guildhall, Portsmouth and that "Councillor Major D.D. Connors, J.P." was "Lord Mayor".

ENCLOSED with the lord mayor's letter was a brochure on the City of Portsmouth, outlining its development from about the 12th century to the present.

The brochure credits Richard I as giving the impetus to the growth of Portsmouth as it was King Richard back in 1194 who really started the town.

The growth of the city, of course, really stemmed from the development of its dockyards so important during the many, many years that Great Britain ruled the waves.

Until 1926 Portsmouth was a borough. But in that year it was raised by George V to the "dignity of a City". In 1928 the title of "Lord Mayor" was conferred on the chief magistrate of the city.

NOT TO BE OUTDONE, Ed in his answer enclosed a brochure of the City of Campbell. Campbell, of course, can't trace its history much farther back than the 20th century (about eight centuries younger than Portsmouth).

However, despite the difference in ages between the two cities, chances are that there are a number of similar problems that face the two cities today.

We thoroughly enjoyed a brief tour of England several years ago so we think this exchange of correspondence between the two mayors is a great idea. (You see we might be going back.)

We thank Mr. Gould of Campbell for making the contact. (When we were over there we didn't have the foresight to take such a step.)

Because we thought you all might be interested in the aforesaid exchange between the two "worships", we are presenting the two letters herewith.

Band boosts bowl bid

Campbell High Schools Bucs marching band received approval of the City Council Monday night to stage a parade Sunday, Nov. 5, to publicize the band's campaign for participation in the Rose Parade on New Year's Day.

The council in giving approval also wished the band luck in obtaining an invitation to the Pasadena pageant. Last year the band was unsuccessful in its quest. But the youthful musicians are more hopeful this year, it was noted.

In addition to the parade on Sunday, Nov. 5, scheduled from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m., the band will present a 10-minute show in front of the high school.

If the band is successful in its campaign, a "kitty" of $6,000 will be necessary to finance the trip south. A number of money-raising projects already have raised some of the needed funds and more are planned for the future, if the invitation is received.

Last year the City Council, as well as the Chamber of Commerce endorsed the band's

Dedication takes place on Sunday

At the dedication of the newly-completed St. Lucy's Catholic Church Sunday afternoon, Oct. 29, the choir of the First Methodist Church of Campbell will participate in the solemn ceremonies at which Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken, of the San Francisco archdiocese, will preside.

The 35-member mixed choir of the First Methodist Church will combine with the 25-member men's choir of St. Lucy's and the 60-member St. Lucy's School choir in presenting the sacred music during the High Mass of con-celebration which will climax the religious ceremony of dedication.

The combined choirs will be directed by Paul Connelly, music director for St. Lucy's. The organist will be Ken Seylar, music director of the First Methodist Church.

The dedication ceremonies begin at 4 p.m.

According to Father John Lally, pastor of St. Lucy's, the dedication ceremony will begin with the blessing of the exterior of the church by the archbishop during which time the doors of the church will be closed.

The archbishop will then enter the church followed by the people and the interior of the church will be blessed.

Archbishop McGucken will be celebrant of the High Mass. He will be assisted by Father Lally and five other priests who have been associated with the parish since its formation, including, the Fathers Thomas Ahern, Gerald Horn, Milan Hlebs, William Duggan and Bernard Brandon, S.J.

Cars and sales tax

Approximately every three months, whenever the quarterly reports on taxable retail sales are issued by the State Board of Equalization, The Campbell Press does a comprehensive news story on the figures that the reports contain as they pertain to Campbell.

Such a story appeared in last week's issue based on the second quarter retail sales figures as prepared by the Board of Equalization.

We are well aware that statistics and figures ordinarily make dull reading and there is not much glamour or human interest in the comparison The Press periodically presents in its reports on taxable sales for a given period.

But The Press maintains that the figures contained in the report of the State Board of Equalization quarterly reports have a tremendous bearing on the destiny of any community.

Obviously if a comparison of a current period with a similar three-month span of the previous year shows that taxable sales have declined, it certainly is evident that the business community is in trouble.

And when the business community suffers, so does the rest of the community.

The City of Campbell, as do the other cities in the state, receives 1% in sales tax revenue from the total taxable sales. Thus, Campbell with $10,878,000 in total taxable sales for the second quarter will receive approximately $108,000 in revenue. In a year's time this amounts to more than $400,000. (Last year, for example, Campbell received $390,677 in sales tax revenue).

Property tax income for Campbell in 1966-67 was only $504,797 so it is apparent how important a part the sales tax plays in the city's fiscal picture.

It is also apparent how important it is that the business community continue in a healthy state. Without the sales tax income, either municipal services would have to be curtailed to a ridiculously low level or the property tax be raised to an unrealistically high point.

There are other reasons The Press makes a habit of devoting the space and effort to analyzing the quarterly sales tax reports.

The State Board of Equalization lists 168 largest California cities by type of business so it is possible to see how Campbell is faring in comparison with cities of similar stature.

In Santa Clara County, reports for 10 of the 16 cities appear. Not listed among the top 168 in the state are Milpitas, Saratoga, Los Altos Hills, Morgan Hill, Monte Sereno and Alviso.

Of the 10 leading cities in the county, Campbell far-distanced Los Altos, Cupertino and Gilroy in taxable sales and is within hailing distance of Los Gatos.

Yet Campbell managed to gain this enviable position WITHOUT a single new automobile agency within its city limits.

According to the report, automobile sales accounted for more than $50 million in the second quarter in the nine other cities in the county.

In Los Gatos, for example, automobile sales accounted for $7,245,000 or 58% of the total of all sales of $11,353,000.

Gilroy with total sales of $5,042,000 had $1,157,000 in auto sales. Cupertino picked up $807,000 from the automobile category and Los Altos $1,105,000.

San Jose had $20,106,000; Sunnyvale $10,166,000 and Santa Clara, $9,835,000 to give an idea just what automobile agencies mean to their communities financial position.

Fortunately Campbell's sales tax picture remains glowing because of the home furnishings category (Breuner's) and building supplies, (Western Gravel, Campbell Lumber, Bonanza, etc.).

Yet The Press can't help but be envious of those other cities, some far less populated than Campbell, in which sales by automobile agencies contribute so handsomely to their coffers.

We grant that being without an automobile agency is a distinction that few cities of 20,000 population in this state, (or any other state for that matter), can boast.

But it is a dubious distinction at its best.

And, in our book, a ridiculous situation.

We are well aware that our rantings and ravings will not bring a car agency into the city limits.

We know that in the past such words as "franchise" and "territories" have been bandied about when the matter has been brought up.

We also understand that "pressure" has been applied in other instances when someone has looked with favor on the fertile area of Campbell for a dealership.

We admit that it is a frustrating situation, especially when there seems so little that can be done about it.

What gripes us also, is that every time a new service station is requested for Campbell, the applicant generally emphasizes how important Campbell is to the motoring public.

That probably is true, except our "motoring public" is forced to buy their cars outside the city limits thus directly contributing to the financial welfare of a city other than their own.

It is enough to make strong men cry, fiscally if not physically.

SOME OF THESE so-called personal communications we get in the mail leave us a wee bit cold.

For example, it cost us five cents to pick up what appeared to be (and was) an invitation at the post office the other day. The sender had forgotten to stick on a stamp so we shelled out the nickel just to see what gives.

It was a very attractive invitation to a dinner at $25 for single and $40 per couple. It cost us five cents just to find that out.

Another rather elaborate mailing piece came to our office this week of a rather personal nature.

It glowingly described the cabin sites that were for sale in Amador County.

We felt sort of guilty opening it. It really wasn't addressed to us, although the address was correct.

It was directed to "P. Campbell".

After all in the phone book, there is such a listing except the full name appears there as "PRESS CAMPBELL", so they just used the initial.

As soon as ol' "Press Campbell" shows up, we'll give him the dope.

He probably could use a cabin or two.

monies at the High Mass will be Monsignor Don L. Walsh, secretary of the archbishop.

The Rt. Rev. Walter Tappe, vicar-general of Diocese of Santa Rosa, will deliver the sermon and the archbishop will also probably speak.

Masses have been held since Sept. 9 in the new $350,000 St. Lucy's Church which will seat 1200 persons.

The new church is double the size of the former edifice that was occupied since 1957 and now will be converted into a parish social hall.

Until 1947 St. Lucy's was a mission of St. Martin's parish in San Jose but was raised to a parish status in that year. The first church building was on Rincon Ave. presently occupied by the Free Will Baptist Church.

Last Sunday open house was held at St. Lucy's from 1:30 to 4 p.m. when hundreds of visitors, both Catholic and non-Catholic, participated in guided tours conducted by lay people, sisters of the parish and others who had a part in the building of the new church.

efforts by formal resoltion. Petitions among the citizens were also circulated. It is expected the same procedure will be followed this year.

The approval for the band parade highlighted a routine City Council meeting that set a record for brevity. The council finished its business after only slightly more than a half-hour in session.

Three ordinances were adopted, including a zone change (from R-1-S to C-1-S) for property at 1925 Winchester Blvd., south of Latimer owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Olsen.

Another ordinance modified the state retirement plan to allow for firemen and policemen to retire at age 55 and the other adopted fixed the time limit for filing claims.

The council also awarded the contract to install a storm drain to serve the drive-in theater off Union Ave. and adjacent areas to Sanco Pipelines Inc. of 165 Cristich Lane, Campbell. Sanco was the low bidder at $6578.45 out of seven submitted, ranging to a high of $8565.50. The engineer's estimate for the job was $7156.

The council adjourned to Tuesday, Oct. 31, when votes in Tuesday's election will be canvassed.

Next Monday, Oct. 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the West Valley College board room, the council will be joined by members of the planning and parks commission, Chamber of Commerce officials, Campbell Citizens for Progress committee members and other civic-minded persons to hear reports from Charles Cavanagh, planning consultant, and Dick Hogan, city planning director, relating to the city's 701 advanced planning program.

This will be the first of a series of joint study sessions and formal and informal public hearings.

September shows big building spurt in city

September this year skyrocketed by more than $600,000 in building permits compared to the same month last year, according to Wally Byron, city building official.

Last month 55 building permits were issued by the city for a total of $770,848. In September, 1966, only 19 permits were issued for $93,866.75.

Most noticeable was the increase listed in the single family residential category. In September, 1966, not a single permit for single-family homes was issued. But last month there were 22 for $347,780.

For the year through September, total permits have topped last year by more than $800,000. Last year to date there had been 246 permits issued for $3,196,142 while for the same period this year there have been 331 permits for $4,020,938.

In September this year, in addition to the 22 single family homes, there were two duplex permits for $37,160 and three for other multiples for $154,968. There were no multiple permits in September, 1966 and just one duplex.

Other permits issued during September included four commercial for $172,000; one industrial for $17,700; seven alterations for $16,600; two swimming pools for $7,690; five demolition for $800; nine other permits for $16,090.

Fees collected during September by the building department totalled $4,058.40 compared to only $1,025.90 for the same month last year.

While this year the total fees (through September) had reached $24,141.45, during the same period last year only $15,988.25 had been realized.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD #15

Is it possible to estimate the service, personal growth, satisfaction and true enjoyment a girl receives through the Girl Scout program? She learns to give of herself...a very important part of growing up. Neighborhood 15 is very fortunate indeed to have 13 new leaders (and more coming!) to help with our expanding troops. Some of these women have been Girl Scouts before; others are brand new to the scouting program but all see the "need" for good leadership for our girls. These women were invested or rededicated last Wednesday evening at the Neighborhood leader meeting. We are truly proud of each and every one.

Cadette Troop #55 of Rolling Hills school is busy planning a weekend trip to Hidden Falls the latter part of October. Included in their plans will be a celebration of Juliette Low's birthday (the founder of Girl Scouting in the U.S.A.), a Halloween party and an interdenominational Church service.

Coming plans include a candlelight rededication in November, service projects and participation in the council Cadette Mystery Bus Trip the first weekend in December. This troop of 45 girls is led by Mrs. Nino Candelaria, Mrs. Thomas Slankard and Mrs. James St. Germaine.

Junior Scouts of the new troop 371 at Capri School held their rededication service last Thursday afternoon. Thirteen Brownie scouts bridged to the Junior level. The girls included: Brenda Baker, Michele Bergevin, Darci Bourke, Michelle Clough, Jill Fredlund, Melissa Hack, Lequitta Langston, Julie Mc Calment, Julie St. Germaine, Jacalyn Vitale, Vennea Felchle, Staci Williams and Julie Warren. The remaining nine Juniors helped the leaders with the ceremony.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

Q. - My doctor says he is not taking part in the Medicare program. Does this mean I will have to change doctors?
A. - No, you may go to any doctor you choose, under Medicare. If your doctor does not want to file a claim for payment, you can pay him and file the claim yourself. Please see page 16 of your Medicare Handbook.
Q. -Part of the claim I made for reimbursement of doctor's bills was disallowed. I don't agree. What should I do?
A. - You can write the organization that handled your claim and tell them why you disagree. After their reply, if you still don't agree, you can request a formal hearing with the organization.
Q. - Where can I get help in filling out a claim for doctor's bills which I have paid?
A. - Go to your local Social Security Office; they will be glad to help you complete the form. Take your Medicare card and any paid doctors' bills with you.
Q. - I was recently in the hospital for 22 days. I thought that I would only have to pay the first $40, but was billed for $62. Is this correct?
A. - It is possible that the charges above the first $40 were for convenience items not covered by Medicare, such as telephone or television. We suggest you call the hospital to learn the reason for the extra charges.

1 YEAR AGO

The rangy, long-limbed Tom Haller of the S. F. Giants, will be at the Campbell Shopping Center at Winchester Blvd., between Hamilton and Latimer, this week. On hand to greet the popular catcher will be the city's dignitaries and a host of Campbell Shopping Center business people.

Two local boys are being held at Juvenile Hall on suspicion of burglary and the possession of explosive materials. The youths were apprehended by Campbell police officers running from the area of the Campbell High School boys gym.

Mark Van Doren, 62 year-old poet-lecturer from Illinois, will appear at West Valley College this week.

5 YEARS AGO

West Valley residents are invited to hear Congressman Charles Gubser deliver one of nine major campaign addresses at a dinner to be held at 6 p.m. on Thursday, at the Orchard City Grange Hall, 109 N. First St., Campbell.

As if it wasn't enough to be burned out of their house, at 454 Kenneth Ave., last week, John Ricci reported that someone looted the gutted house and made off with tools valued at $15, slashed the canvas covering the empty swimming pool and destroyed shrubs in the yard.

Record breaking rain fell in Campbell over the weekend bringing the total for the season to 4.72 inches. High winds accompanied the downpour resulting in numerous power failures, downed wires and countless trees blown over during the height of the Saturday storm. Roofs all over town sprung leaks and roofing companies were on an emergency basis as were members of the Campbell Fire Department and Campbell Police Department. All off duty men and volunteers were called in both departments and were kept busy answering emergency calls, and evacuating families in the flood areas.

10 YEARS AGO

School officials in the Campbell area continued this week to keep a wary eye on their absenteeisms as the flu bug still hovered around. But apparently in no case had the bug hit any school hard enough to warrant calling the situation alarming. Camden High, according to a check by The Press, received the dubious honor of having the highest absenteeisms during the current seige.

The undefeated Billy Wilson Golden Hornets go after a crucial win that should decide the championship of the Pop Warner Conference when they tackle the unbeaten Millbrae Lion's Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at Campbell field.

15 YEARS AGO

Press football editor cut a new wrinkle in the convolutions of his cranium trying to dope out the winners of this week's football contest, but after nervously flipping a coin and consulting the office ouija board finally decided on Mary Sue Field and Doug Strong as first place tie winners.

Main subject of the next council meeting Monday night will concern Poultry and Animal Ordinance, Engineering report on Los Gatos Creek bed, and hearing on the application of Harry Weisend; matters held over from the last meeting.

ACCIDENT CAUSES

with "Charlie" Gubser

"Our young people have been corrupted by luxury; their manners are bad and they are contemptuous of authority--no longer arise when their elders enter the room. They contradict their parents, chatter in the presence of guests, wolf their food and tyrannize their teachers."

Though the above was written by Socrates in the Fifth Century B.C., it is still in tune with some adult views of today's young people. In fact in the eyes of most elders, the younger generation has been in terrible shape for twenty-five hundred years!.

All young people of today should not be judged by the bearded beatniks who demand a better world and contribute nothing to it except four letter words, LSD, and third rate art. The offbeats and "hippies" who are so quick to criticize society but unwilling to assume any responsibility for improving it are not representative of American youth. They should be considered for what they are--unfortunate, maladjusted individuals, some with great intellectual ability, who are compelled to the ridiculous in order to avoid the obscurity which, deep in their innerselves, they feel they deserve.

The vast majority of young Americans are quietly, diligently, and honestly preparing themselves for community leadership. They have a deep sense of morality and citizenship, and constitute the best informed, most articulate and educated group we have ever produced.

America is the youngest nation in the free world with more than half its population under the age of twenty-five. Nearly 82 million Americans are under twenty-one. Our Commanders in Viet Nam, some of them veterans of three wars, tell me they have never commanded young men of higher caliber than those now in Viet Nam.

If young people do have fears for the future and the tremendous hardships and hurdles which they must face, it is understandable.

Their future will include an era which spawns knowledge faster than men can absorb it. In the past fifty years technology has advanced more rapidly than in the past 500. Scientific knowledge doubles every ten years and there is almost a hundred times as much to know today as there was in 1900. By the year 2000, some have estimated there will be a thousand times as much to be learned as there is today.

The present adult generation, and those which immediately preceded it, have built a great country through the private enterprise system. But today many adults seem obsessed with creating an impression that this system has failed, that massive Federal programs and infusions of Federal money and control are the only means of solving problems.

In short this generation seems to have lost respect for what it has helped to build and will pass on as a heritage to future generations. So, if the talented young people of today also develop a lack of faith in our heritage, whose fault is it?

Employees from Lockheed boost Campbell U.F.

With a recent $9,992 contribution from employees of Lockheed Missiles & Space Co. living in Campbell, the Campbell United Fund campaign has reached the 61 per cent mark of its $45,797 goal.

Campbell United Fund Campaign Chairman Richard A. Hardy, vice president of Ainsley Corp., announced the recent achievement for the Central Area UF Chapter, which comprises Campbell and 10 nearby cities.

The Lockheed employees donation was made through their Buck-of-the-Month Club. Their total contribution to the Central Area Chapter was $203,335. That amount was then distributed to the 11 communities in the chapter with Campbell receiving just under $10,000. Determination of how much each community receives is based on the residence of the Lockheed employees and is in keeping with the "give where you work to support the agencies where you live" philosophy of United Fund.

Also at the meeting a number of employee groups from various companies in the Central Area Chapter received bronze year bars to add to their "outstanding citizenship" plaques for excellent UF campaigns this year. Breuner's Home Furnishers employees in Campbell were among those honored.

San Tomas area residents form improvement club

Residents and Businessmen interested in improving the San Tomas area are invited to attend the next meeting of the San Tomas Community Improvement Association.

This association is being formed by residents of the San Tomas area to present views of local concern. Some of the matters of interest are zoning, neighborhood improvement, street conditions, plus other issues that arise from time to time.

Support of this association will increase your voice in city and county government by presenting your views through an organized association. The meeting will be held at San Tomas School (Abbott at Hacienda) on Wednesday, Nov. 1, at 7:45 p.m.

Residents living in the area of Hacienda, Virginia, Capri, Sunnyoaks, San Tomas Aquino Rd., Abbott, Harriett, Pollard Rd. and Budd Ave. are especially invited.

Cash stolen

The theft of $157 in cash from a kitchen cupboard and a bedroom drawer was reported to Campbell Police this week by Marshall Detrick, 223 Sunnyside Ave.

The burglary occurred while the Detricks were out for the evening, according to the report. Entry was apparently made by ripping the screen in the back door, according to police.

Camden Capers

By Gayle Piech

Four Camden students recently received letters of recommendation honoring them for their high performance on the 1967 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

Nancy Shaw, Gary Schumacher, Don Vaughn and Steve Bignell scored in the upper two per cent of those students in the United States who will graduate in 1968.

Commended students rank just below 14,000 semi-finalists announced in September.

Mr. John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation stated that "Although commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their outstanding record in a nationwide program deserves public recognition."

The names of the four students were reported to other scholarship-granting agencies, and then to the colleges they chose at the time of the N.M.S.Q. test.

SENIORS STUDY TEEN PROBLEMS

Crime and delinquency problems that concern today's teenagers, were discussed last week by Santa Clara County probation officers in the senior government classes.

William Ellison and Frank Gomez, officers working to prevent juvenile delinquency, spoke on various subjects such as factors that contribute to crime and delinquency, and the probation of youths.

SOCK HOP HELD

Decorated socks on students' feet highlighted Camden's second student body dance of the year, held Oct. 20 from 8 to 11 p.m.

Music by the Beggar's Opera filled the air, while students wearing school attire danced in stocking feet.

Camdenites and their guests were admitted, if wearing decorated socks, with an A.S.B. card or a ticket previously purchased for $1.

Prizes were awarded for the best decorated socks.

"MADWOMEN OF CHAILLOT"

The cast for Camden's senior play has been chosen, according to Miss Charlotte Baumgardner, drama department supervisor.

The "Madwomen of Chaillot" is the play chosen for production, and will be presented Nov. 17 and 18 at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Tickets will be sold at school by the drama commission. Commission members are currently working on backstage preparations.

COUGARS VICTORIOUS

Camden won their first varsity game with a 32-13 win over Leigh High on the Cougar field, Friday, Oct. 20.

Paul Augustini and Wayne Atchison each scored twice for Camden. Dennis Fuller also made a TD to rack up a 32-0 lead.

Scoring two touchdowns and a conversion in the fourth quarter, the Leigh Longhorns failed to catch up to the Cougars.

TEACHERS MEETING

Santa Clara County Substitute Teachers Association will hold the first regular meeting of the year at Washington School, Santa Clara on Wednesday, Oct. 25, at 7:30 p.m.

Blackford Beat

by Linda Hodam

Brandy Wade, Dayla Regan and Elaine Flayetta, three Blackford seniors, were recently selected as 1967 radio station KLIV official cheerleaders. Two Westmont girls, Robin Atkins and Gina De Leonardo, were also chosen as Cheerleaders.

The cheerleaders uniforms are royal blue V neck sweaters, and white miniskirts. Dayla Regan designed the uniforms.

As KLIV cheerleaders, the girls receive uniforms, backstage passes to all KLIV sponsored events, and free records.

Last Thursday, Oct. 12, Blackford's Girls Athletic Association had their first rough swimming competition against Campbell High and Camden High. The girls swam in 24 individual events and seven relays. While swimming the girls are classified into four divisions, AA, A, B, and C. Blackford swimmers won in all four divisions.

Oct. 19, swimmers held their second meet against Del Mar High and Saratoga High, at Saratoga. Blackford placed 2nd in the AA division, and B division.

Next week Blackford competes against Branham High and Leigh High.

Del Mar Dateline

by Glenda Vitale

Scheduled for this Thursday is the first night rally to be held in the district in over a dozen years. It is open to Del Mar students only, and starts at 7:30. From the looks of the skits being rehearsed, it should really be a fun rally. Students are requested to be on their best behavior, as this is, in a sense, a "trial rally" for the whole district.

Climaxing this past Twirp Week will be the annual Twirp dance, "O Leary's Barn", this Friday from 8 to 11. Lively entertainment will be provided by the popular "People". On this night girls will be required to open doors, ask their dates for the pleasure of the next dance, buy refreshments, and, if desired, buy color photographs which will be available.

Boys will be wearing corsages made of candy, toys, or vegetables by their dates.

Spirit was high last Friday as the Dons went on to beat the Los Gatos Wildcats 12-6, at the first of Del Mar's two night games on Los Gatos' field. Rooters busses were provided, which provided transportation to and from the game.

This Friday's game will be on Del Mar's field with the Leigh Longhorns. Kick-off is at 3.

Del Mar's Young Life club is off to a real good start this year with 150 being the average number of attendance. Young Life meets every Wednesday night from 7:30 to 8:30.

Senior cabinet, comprised of three people from each government class, and the Senior class officers, decided on March 8 as the tentative date for the Senior Ball. It will be held at the Cabana in Palo Alto.

Del Mar Sports

by Ed Gibson

In the first night game of Del Mar's football season, the Dons triumphed 12-6 against Los Gatos on Friday, Oct. 20. Varsity fullback Barry Reynolds did an outstanding job for Del Mar. Reynolds scored both of the Don's touchdowns and netted 135 yards.

Playing great defensive games for Del Mar were Todd Martin with three interceptions and Don Transeth with two interceptions. Ed Yager also was a bright spot in defense, making some fine tackles. Dons' halfback Mike Harris did some exceptional blocking and quarterback Jerry Bush managed to complete four passes. The Dons will travel to Leigh this Friday, Oct. 27.

Bruce Runcie, by far the best distance runner Del Mar has ever turned out, showed his ability again in the varsity cross country meet with Blackford and Campbell Oct. 19. Finishing first, he beat the next runner by more than 25 seconds. While the varsity team won against Campbell, they lost by one point to Blackford. Runcie took a fifth at the Del Mar Invitational last Saturday, Oct. 21.

New Books at the CAMPBELL LIBRARY

JOCKO, by Jocko Conlan and Robert Craemer.

The inimitable Jocko Conlan, who in 20 years of National League umpiring brought to baseball more good humor and unflagging vitality than any other six umpires, bubbles over with anecdotes in this book. Through the skillful writing of Mr. Craemer, Jocko, the ebullient and prolific storyteller, makes his many years of baseball so real that the reader can smell the popcorn and hear the crack of the bat.

THE DEATH OF A PRESIDENT by William Manchester

This controversial book written by a close friend of the late President Kennedy has attracted great interest and discussion. Read this powerful narrative, which, in the opinion of the publisher, Harper and Row, is both a significant contribution to history and an eminent literary achievement.

THE SEARCH FOR AMELIA EARHART by Fred Goerner

What happened to Amelia Earhart? Was she simply lost at sea? Was she captured by the Japanese? Was she a spy? For almost thirty years doubt has surrounded the mystery of this famous aviatrix and her navigator, Fred Noonan. The Search for Amelia Earhart has a "detective-story" quality in its account. Fred Goerner interviewed scores of people who had bits of information, including island natives, ex-G.I's, Generals, Admirals, and Washington officials. The answers are here.

Letters to the Editor

SOMEONE NEEDS SCOUT TRAINING

Dear Mr. Vierhus,

Last night, my husband returned from a Boy Scout Troop Committee meeting with the news that the Troop had lost approximately $10 this past weekend due to theft.

The troop had placed a bin for the collection of old newspapers at the corner of Latimer and Winchester and instead of depositing old papers, someone had removed 2500 pounds of paper.

It took quite a few Scouts a considerable amount of their so-called "free" time to collect this amount of paper.

The money received from these paper drives is used for equipment, awards, trips, etc. for the Troop and the boys work hard. The thought that someone is taking advantage of this way of fund-raising to line his own pockets is, to me, appalling.

The amount involved may seem trivial to most people, but to a self-sustaining unit like the Scout Troop, it may mean not being able to take all the boys on a hike because the Troop does not have enough equipment. A few must be left at home - and no parents, with an eager Scout in the family, wants to explain to her son why he cannot go along on the trip with the Troop.

How can we teach our boys to be upright, honest citizens when this is the example set by others? Must we resort to locks on the paper bins and thereby tell our children not to trust their fellowmen?

A Scout is trustworthy - the sad thing to learn is that not everyone in Campbell is worthy of being a Scout.

Scholarship total doubles at West Valley

The West Valley College Board of Trustees was told this week that the school's scholarship fund has more than doubled in the past two years, and that with help from the community it could grow considerably more.

Jerry Girdner, dean of student personnel services, said that close to $6000 in grants has gone to West Valley students on the basis of need and ability.

He also told trustees that the Federal government will match local donations dollar for dollar, and sometimes two to one, under the Economic Opportunity grant program.

In addition, the United Student Aid Fund, a privately financed organization, will offer low-interest loans to students at the ratio of 14½ to one.

Girdner explained that should local organizations--both on and off campus--raise, for example, $1000 to put in the loan program, the USAF will provide up to $14,500 in student loans.

VISITS ST. LUCY'S--Brother Oliver Aiu, assistant superintendent of the Santa Clara County Parochial Schools, visited St. Lucy's School in Campbell recently. On hand to greet him were (left to right) Sister Lucy Julie, principal, and Sister Anne Christine.

St Lucy's has visit from school head

Brother Oliver Aiu. assistant superintendent of the Santa Clara County Parochial Schools, addressed the Mothers' Guild of St. Lucy's Parish, Campbell, recently. Brother Aiu's presentation highlighted the practical and structural aspects of the Archdiocesan Department of Education. Stressing the individuality of each parish school, he explained that a primary purpose of his office is to meet with school administrators and various parent organizations to develop programs geared to answering the needs of that particular school. The parish, he stated, must work as a composite whole in fostering the education of its individuals.

Brother also gave a brief rundown on the personnel and operational areas connected with the Archdiocesan Department of Education. The initiation of a San Jose Office of Catholic Education, Brother hopes, will bring the 31 parochial schools in Santa Clara County into closer affiliation with the main office in San Francisco.

Brother Aiu was born and raised in Hawaii, where he attended St. Louis High School. After entering the Marianists, Brother taught in his home state and was later transferred to Cleveland and Cincinnati, Ohio. He has recently taught at Riordan High School in San Francisco and is currently supervising various Catholic schools in Santa Clara County

County to test public warning equipment Friday, at 11 a.m.

Public warning equipment will be tested in Santa Clara and San Mateo Counties at 11 a.m. on Friday, Oct. 27. The test pattern will be a steady siren tone for one minute, a minute of silence and a wavering tone for one minute.

Sirens and other outdoor warning devices will be used in event of an enemy attack and when necessary to get public attention in emergencies.

The attack warning signal is a 3 to 5 minute warbling tone on sirens or short blasts on horns. This signal is sounded only when an enemy attack is detected by the North American Air Defense Command. It means that everyone should follow emergency plans at his place of work, in school, at home, or wherever located. Radios should be turned on to listen for emergency information. Radio stations KXRX 1500), KEEN 1370) and KLOK (1170) are prepared to broadcast emergency information in event of attack when other local stations must close down.

The alert or attention signal is a steady tone sounded for 3 to 5 minutes. It is sounded on authority of city officials and means that everyone should listen to radio or television stations for urgent emergency information.

Cities testing equipment are: Alviso, Campbell, Cupertino, Los Altos, Los Altos Hills, Los Gatos, Milpitas, Monte Sereno, Mountain View, Palo Alto, Santa Clara and Sunnyvale.

PG&E budgets $8 million for undergrounding

Pacific Gas and Electric Company has announced plans to budget $8 million in 1968 for converting overhead electric distribution lines to underground.

The figure is contained in a document filed with the California Public Utilities Commission in which PG&E also indicates the amounts that will be allocated next year for converting existing overhead lines to underground in each city and county in the company's service area.

This information was presented to the PUC in response to its recent decision which establishes statewide procedures for undergrounding overhead distribution lines in cities and in unincorporated areas.

"We are gratified that the program authorized by the Commission conforms closely in principle to the proposals which PG&E submitted to the PUC for approval in 1965," said V.C. Redman, company senior vice-president.

"By its decision the Commission has authorized PG&E to move ahead on our greatly expanded conversion program. The $8 million budgeted is approximately four times greater than the amount spent by PG&E on this type of work in 1966. Company representatives are prepared to discuss possible conversion projects with city and county governing bodies."

The PUC also has under study another proposal submitted by PG&E last December by which the company is seeking authorization to provide underground electric service in new residential subdivisions at no extra charge to the developer except for trenching and backfill and for ducts where required.

The overhead conversion program authorized by the PUC provides that all costs, except those for certain portions of the property owners' service wiring, will be borne by PG&E.

"Through its decision," Redman said, "the Commission has made it possible for us to broaden our program and to place underground, solely for esthetic reasons, power facilities located in civic, public recreational and scenic areas."

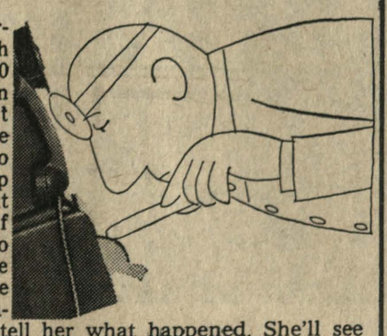
It's not very surprising that with more than 114,000 coin phones in California, that once in a while one of them will go haywire and keep your dime when it shouldn't. And if this happens to you, all you have to do is dial the Operator from another phone and tell her what happened. She'll see that a refund is mailed to you, or if you wish, complete another call for you.



And, we'll appreciate it if you'll give the Operator the number of the phone that kept your dime so we can see it is repaired.

According to the way I heard it, a man went down to a bookstore to get a long-anticipated book that had just arrived and found people were actually standing in line for their copies. Then he got a bright idea . . . He walked out to the sidewalk and into a telephone booth in front of the store. He dialed the mail order section of the store and requested his book. When the clerk asked for the name and address, he said, "Don't bother sending it . . . just bring it to me out in front of the store!" Buying a book or whatever your shopping needs, I'm sure you'll find shopping by phone is time-saving and more convenient, and don't forget the handy Yellow Pages in your Campbell Directory.

Have you noticed how some people's voices sound differently when talking to them in person than they do over the telephone? One reason could be that they weren't holding the phone properly. I think people will find your voice will sound clear and natural if you always speak right into the mouthpiece of the phone. Ideally the mouthpiece should be held within an inch of your lips, with the receiver firmly against your ear. I've found it does make a difference.
